The Rosenbaum School

Milford, Conn.

Prepares boys for College Entrance Board Examinations. Regular session opens last Monday in September and continues through the June college entrance examinations.

Because all instruction is individual, or in small classes (never more than five in a class), boys may enter ANY TIME during the year, without the handicap of "catching up" with a class.

This intensive method of instruction, not only enables the boy to cover nearly twice as much ground as he ordinarily would, but it greatly increases the probability of success in the examinations. During the past four years, The Rosenbaum School PREPARED 471 BOYS AND ALL BUT 5 ENTERED COLLEGE.

References: (1) Any former student. (A list will be found in the school catalogue). (2) Any Yale graduate of the past ten years. (3) Any Yale undergraduate.

Well-equipped school building, laboratory, dormitory and gymnasium. There are three tennis courts on the school grounds, and facilities for boating, swimming, baseball, skating and hockey.

ANNUAL SUMMER REVIEW for the fall college entrance examinations begins the third Monday in July. Boys may begin work any time AFTER THAT DATE, if advisable. Work may be taken either in Milford or New Haven

THAT which goes out of town benefits neither the school nor the individual. The quantity of work determines the price, and school groups or individual portraits made by out of town men necessarily results in raising the prices at this studio. Competition in price will never be a standard in this studio. Its prices will be governed by the co-operation of the P. A. Students and Faculty.

The Wellsworth Windsor

PATENTED

Someone has rightly called Wellsworth Windsors "the Glasses of Youth." Young people like them, and middle-aged folks find that wearing Windsors takes years from their appearance.

Windsors are the vogue in spectaclewear.

Windsors have the advantage of the cleverly in-bilt eyewires over all other so-called "shell-rim" frames. These eyewires — which you do not notice — hold the lenses firmly and prevent the rims from warping out of shape.

The Windsor is the only "shell-rim" spectacle made that has an all-metal frame. It is a patented Windsor feature.

Wellsworth Windsors are ideal for student's wear. They are both sturdy and stylish. Windsors are made for you.

Gillette SAFETY RAZOR

In the Service of Uncle Sam

BIT by bit, news of the College Man's service under Old Glory is coming back from "over there."

He can't take many of his comforts with him. His Gillette is sure to go along—the razor of the fighting man; of the man who is putting the thing across in any occupation or walk of life.

Find a successful man anywhere in the world and you find a Gillette owner, a man who conserves his time for big affairs, knows the value of a dollar, and turns to the Gillette for dependable hundred per cent service.

Five minutes' time, a fraction of a cent a shave—and No Stropping, No Honing.

Write for the New Gillette Catalogue. See the new Gillette Sets specially designed for the fighting man. Thirty styles of Gillette Safety Razors—$5 to $50. New Blades 50c. and $1 the packet. Gillette dealers everywhere.

"NOTICE THE X*Y*N*O STONE LINING"

All food chambers of the X*Y*N*O Rhinelander have this glistening, snow-white, one-piece lining. No seams or crevices. No lodging places for scraps of food or germs. Simply going over the lining with a cloth wrung in hot water leaves it clean — spotless — sanitary.

Rhinelander Refrigerators

are saving work and keeping food better in 300,000 homes. Removable ice tank, easily cleaned in the sink under the hot water faucet. Drain tube can be washed in the same way. Extra clearance under the drain for a large water pan.

PHILLIPS ACADEMY
ANDOVER MASSACHUSETTS

FOUNDED at Andover, Mass., 1778, by the gifts of Hon. Samuel Phillips and his uncle, Hon. John Phillips. Others have added to the original foundations by endowments of several kinds, and various scholarships have been established. The total endowment is $1,262,000.

Phillips Academy has established very high repute for its broad scholarship, for its elevated ideals, and especially for the practical success which has been attained by its students.

In all the leading professions and every useful avenue of endeavor, its alumni are found among leaders. In all the great colleges, and particularly Yale and Harvard, the graduates of this Academy have for years been distinguished for their thoroughness of preparation and success in their college work. The academy has also done a useful work in the education of boys who have not gone to college. Especially is it distinguished for its American, democratic spirit, the sons of the wealthiest men in the country mingling with boys who are working their way through school.

The courses of the Academy have thoroughly adjusted and adapted themselves to the highest collegiate requirements. The ability of its faculty, the excellence of its equipment, its library and laboratory facilities, the prestige of honorable history and other advantages and achievements have placed Phillips Academy in the front rank of American schools.

WE, the editors, representing the class of 1918 of Phillips Academy, present this twenty-sixth annual edition of the POT-POURRI and CLASS BOOK in the hope that the pages between these two covers may serve in some little way to keep clearer in our minds the events of the senior and last year of our class in Phillips Academy.

We hope that in the estimation of those who are in a position to judge, the class has lived up to the traditions and customs established throughout the long history of this school.

It is our desire that this book may help each one to keep up the friendships formed and, in future years, to recall the features of those we have chummed with here.

The Board has had quite a bit of outside assistance in getting out this edition, and we now extend our sincere thanks to all those who have so aided us.

CLASS HISTORY

The Junior Year

FOR most of us it was our first year away from home. We could no longer "play horse" with our mothers' apron-strings. The time had come for us to solve for ourselves the daily problems and to perform as best we knew how, the hourly duties. We were not all angels to be sure, although some of us felt that our wings were pretty large, and were tempted to try a few practice flights. The older men in school, however, soon reminded us, during a prep "parade" or an "all out" night, that ours was not the only class in school, and that we were to have at least one year trying to live up to Andover's high ideals and traditions before we could justly call ourselves Andover men.

So it was, therefore, with these early but beneficial hints, that we settled down to work, and looked forward to our first Exeter football game.

Under the splendid leadership of Captain "Gus" Avery, the team showed the real Andover spirit, which we had by this time grown to know so well. Our rivals presented a splendid line-up; one of the best that has represented Exeter in many years, and we were forced to a 78 to 7 defeat. Although disappointed for the moment, we were not discouraged and turned with set teeth and clenched fists toward the future.

Just before we scattered for the Christmas vacation, Bartlet Hall, one of the oldest dormitories on the hill, was swept by fire. Practically all the belongings of the fellows on the top floor were lost. Although the outer walls of the building remained intact, the inside was so damaged by fire and water that complete renovation was necessary.

For the first time in many years a relay team was entered to run against Exeter in the B. A. A. Indoor Meet on February 6th. The race was the best of the evening. Andover won by a scant three yards. Lack of proper ice handicapped the hockey team, which was finally defeated by Exeter in a close game. The usual Junior Prom, Musical Clubs' concert with Exeter, and a production of the Dramatic Club, "The Bells", were given before the end of the term.

May 30th saw Exeter's track team defeated by Captain Prescott's team, 54 to 41. The baseball team bowed in defeat to our rivals by the score of 10 to 2.

On June 10th our first year at Andover ended. As we looked back upon a year well spent, our hearts rejoiced; we were proud of our connection with the school. Toward the future we turned resolutely, and with keen confidence that we too should be given an opportunity to prove ourselves true Andover men.

ROGER M. WOOLLEY

The Lower Middle Year

RETURNING to school as old men for the first time in the fall of 1915, we began to look ahead with eager anticipation. Needless to say we felt it our duty to start the incoming "preps" on the straight and narrow path, and at the end of a few weeks we were justified in feeling that our efforts had been rewarded.

Our football team, under Captain Gleason's leadership, went through a trying season. Many of the members sustained injuries and in the final game Exeter defeated us. Three of our class were members of this team: Talmage, Stover, and Wolfe.

During the winter term our swimming, wrestling and gym teams completed praiseworthy seasons. In hockey and in the relay race Exeter excelled, and we were forced to accept defeat in these sports from our New Hampshire rivals. Many of our class had obtained positions on the various publications and other organizations when the Exeter Concert marked the termination of the term.

With the coming of the spring our enthusiasm redoubled, and we applied ourselves to school work and outside activities. Captain Russell's track team, after its customary meets, met defeat at Exeter. Converse and Buckley were the point-winners for 1918. The baseball team captained by Charlie Faherty came through the season with a fine showing. The final game with Exeter was one of the finest exhibitions of air-tight baseball we have ever witnessed, and although we were defeated 2 to 1, we always shall be proud of that team.

When June and College Board exams arrived, we felt, on looking back, that a most delightful year had passed. It is true that we had not had much athletic success, but we had attained a far greater goal — we had become truer and more loyal sons of Old Andover.

W. E. Stevenson

Upper Middle Year

WITH happy remembrances of the summer fresh in our minds, we returned on October 4th, three weeks late in commencing, on account of the infantile paralysis epidemic. In this way we entered upon a year which was to embrace hard study, excellent athletics, patriotic steps, and boundless fun.

Good football material was soon mustered by our new coach, Fred Daly, P. A. '07. Although time for development had been cut short, the team experienced a very successful season. The Exeter game was a most spectacular and interesting contest, in spite of the muddy condition of the gridiron. Our visitors from New Hampshire won only by a score of 6 to 0. The supporters of the Blue and White came through with constant and hard fighting, and the famous spirit of Andover made itself manifest both on the field and in the bleachers. We are proud that our class contributed to the team Herr, Stover, Talmage, Jones, and Noyes.

The soccer team, considering the lack of material, made a surprisingly good showing under the guidance of Captain Coburn. The concluding game with Worcester's strong team resulted in a tie of 2 to 2.

When the Christmas holidays had flown swiftly and pleasantly by, January 2nd called us back to Andover. The Peabody Assembly dances lightened the tedious winter weeks. The Combined Musical Clubs gave their annual entertainment for Rogers Hall, with a supper and dance. That which is often spoken of as the most delightful event of the year — the Junior Prom — was unusually successful.

Both the swimming and hockey teams had excellent seasons, the latter being victorious over our New Hampshire rivals for the first time in the history of that sport Coaches Quinby and Blanchard were directing the baseball and track squads respectively and were whipping the candidates into shape for two successful campaigns against Exeter in the spring.

But talk of war with Germany now became prevalent throughout the United States. Phillips Academy was among the first to follow and stir patriotism. A military organization was immediately formed.

We returned from the spring vacation during which war had been declared. The spirit of the school was at the highest pitch. Athletics were canceled entirely, and the students devoted their time to military work. The very most which could be expected of a new and untried organization was accomplished by the School Battalion.

The Phillips Academy Ambulance Unit, composed of twenty-five fellows, sailed for France on April 18th, in compliance with the pressing call for ambulance drivers. Some forty others joined various branches of the service, but the main body of the school remained busy with school duties.

Although we missed athletics, the spring slipped by pleasantly. After enjoying the Senior Promenade and graduation exercises, we began our college entrance examinations with hopeful, sometimes fearful, thoughts.

We departed for home with happy hearts after this year, anticipating an equally significant Senior Year.

DANIEL F. BROWN

The Senior Year

THE dawn of our last year upon the hill found us with fewer old men, but with the same old Andover spirit and firm determination to make this year, with all its possibilities and vague future, the greatest of all.

Soon after our arrival and even before the thought of studies had entered our minds, our attention was turned to football, which progressed rapidly under the able guidance of Mr. Quinby, who kindly assented to act as coach in the absence of Fred Daly, '07, now serving in France. With practically no old men to build on, a team was rounded into shape that came above all our hopes, and after passing through a successful preliminary season, more than acquitted itself in the annual Exeter contest. The score of 3 to 0, while favoring the New Hampshire aggregation, was far from being termed a defeat and was probably the hardest fought game in the history of the two schools. Our class proudly claimed eight of Captain Braden's men as members, namely: Bailey, Baker, P. Brown, Fairbairn, MacDonald, Moorehead, Randolph, Robinson, and Manager Neville. In line with other fall athletics the soccer team, captained by Dan Coburn of our class, had a very successful season, and Captain Ted Hale's record-breaking cross country team proved to be the best in years and passed through the season with an unscored record.

Social activities played no unimportant part in school life, though somewhat on a war basis, and even with the faculty's apparent opposition to the old saying, "All work and no play, etc." the Musical Clubs in the midst of final exams, made their annual pilgrimage to Rogers Hall, where they succeeded in breaking many hearts (and strings), and were most royally entertained. The Peabody Dances were again held and proved to be a greater success than ever, but the "headliner" of social diversions came in the Junior Prom, unique in its patriotic and martial appearance, and fully within Hoover's and Garfield's "win the war" measures, but agreed to by all as one of the most successful proms that have ever been held in the old gym.

Winter athletics made a very creditable showing. The hockey team, under the efficient coaching of Mr. Quinby, who has proven himself a true all-round sportsman, came across with a victory against Exeter. Now the baseball and track squads are well under way and if they continue to improve at the present rate, Exeter will have to do wonders to keep Andover's cup of fighting spirit from running over, into two of the biggest celebrations that have ever graced the hill.

Probably the greatest innovation that has been brought into the life at Andover in recent years has been the introduction of the Department of Military Science and Tactics under Major Robert N. Davy, R. O. C. E. F., and Lieut. R. E. Wyatt 4th C. M. R.'s, C. E. F., instructor in the methods of trench warfare. The military corps qualifying as a Senior R. O. T. C. was organized on the regimental basis and numbered among the cadet staff of commissioned officers were a colonel, three captains, and nine lieutenants who hailed from '18.

Now that the end of our career at Andover is fast becoming a reality, the training — intellectual, moral, and physical — that we have received has made us men, and as men we must now go out into the world, some to higher institutions of learning, others to the battlefield of France. But whatever our fortune, may we all have the one firm determination to make the best of our opportunities, that in after years it may be said that the Class of '18 has played the game well.

MILITARY SIRCOM
AUX ARMES !

MAJOR R. N. DAVY, R. O. C. E. F.

MILITARY Training was not entirely new to Andover, as it had been carried on more or less in previous years, so, at the opening of school in September, 1917, it was announced that the Board of Trustees had voted to have Military Training for all those over sixteen years of age, and for those under, who wished to take it with the consent of their parents.

The School was very fortunate in securing through the Canadian War Office, the services of Major R. N. Davy, R. O. C. E. F., to act as Commandant. Major Davy had had considerable experience in the training of troops, being in command of the 225th Overseas Battalion and proved to be a valuable asset in teaching the best methods of modern warfare. Through the efforts of Dr. Stearns, Major Davy and some prominent alumni, the organization was able to be made a Senior Reserve Officers Training Corps, with Major John A. Pearson, 11th U. S. Cavalry, nominally in charge. Rifles were secured, also bayonets, and other equipment. The uniforms worn were to be regulation army olive drab with suitable insignia prescribed for the R. O. T. C.

Work started October 24th. The R. O. T. C. was organized into a battalion of four companies with student officers in charge. As it was necessary to learn the rudiments first, close order drill occupied most of the Fall Term. As drill only came three hours a week the work went slowly, it being impossible to learn quickly and correctly in the allotted time.

Classes for officers and non-commissioned officers met in the evenings twice a week for special instruction. A bugle and drum corps was formed and proved to be most efficient. At the same time enough instruments were procured for the formation of a brass band of about twenty-five pieces. By continual practice and hard work the band was soon in shape and was able to render many selections, for which considerable credit is due the members. The close of the fall term saw the work well under way, and promised much for the future.

Immediately after the beginning of the Winter Term the training was carried on more vigorously than ever. A new schedule was devised in order to have more time for instruction. The prescribed amount of work in the manual of arms and bayonet fighting was covered. After the first few weeks the battalion was reorganized into a regiment of two battalions of three companies each. Promotions were made and also many appointments, to fill up the positions left open. Special attention was now given toward preparing for an exhibition on the morning after the Junior Prom. Everyone worked hard and the show went off in fine shape. The various branches of the R. O. T. C. exhibited the work they had been doing during the year and were heartily applauded. On March 15th a public exhibition was given. Major General Hodges, commanding Camp Devens, and his aide, reviewed the regiment, also Major Hodges, the representative of General Johnston.

PHILLIPS ACADEMY REGIMENTAL BAND

This demonstration was more complete than the former and included exhibitions in bayonet fighting, signalling, first aid, musketry and close order drill. Selections were rendered by the brass band, the bugle and drum corps, the Glee Club and Mandolin Club. During the winter term synopses of lectures by Major Davy were issued and printed in the Phillipian. They covered work on Protection, Topography and other subjects. The exhibition of March 15th closed the work for the winter term.

The opening of the Spring Term brought a welcome helper to Major Davy in 1st Lieutenant R. E. Wyatt, 4th C. M. R., who having been seriously wounded, was home on leave. He was to assist Major Davy in trench warfare, including bombing, gas and bayonet fighting. The construction of trenches near the new track began immediately. A bayonet course was also constructed west of the Infirmary, where instruction in bayonet fighting was carried on. During the first part of the term a scout corps was formed and instructed. Those who had qualified on the indoor rifle range in Pearson Hall were allowed to shoot with the service rifles on the 300-yard range at Frye Village.

At the present writing all the work is going along rapidly. Instruction in open order is nearly finished. One system of trenches is about ready for use, and special details are being instructed in sand-bagging, wiring, revelling, and building dugouts.

The close of the Spring Term will bring to completion the work of the year. No praise is too high for Major Davy, whose untiring energy and devoted zeal made the Phillips Academy Reserve Officers Training Corps the success that it is.

Musical Clubs

THE Combined Musical Clubs experienced this year one of the most successful seasons they have had in many years. From the very beginning they had excellent material, and a large number of candidates reported. Soon the various clubs were organized, and the first concert was given at Rogers Hall, Lowell, on December 15th. The concert was unusually successful, and the girls showed their appreciation by giving a splendid supper, followed by a dance, which concluded the evening's entertainment.

On Saturday, January 26th, a very beautiful Thè Dansant was given by the musical clubs for the girls of Rogers Hall, in return for the kind hospitality shown by them last fall. The dance started promptly at three o'clock and after an hour's intermission for supper, was resumed until seven-thirty.

Early in February the clubs became officially a part of the R. O. T. C. organization, and from then on the uniform was worn at all concerts. On February 22nd and March 15th, the Glee and Mandolin Clubs performed in the military exhibitions given in the gymnasium, and well upheld their part of the program.

Saturday, March 16th, the clubs made their second trip of the season, to Camp Devens, and after a view of the camp, gave a concert before the soldiers in the Y. M. C. A. recreation hall. They were warmly received, and made to feel at home by the old Andover men in camp.

The combined Andover-Exeter concert was held this year in Andover at the town hall on March 23rd, before a large and enthusiastic audience. Both clubs did remarkably well and the Andover clubs did not fail to uphold in every way the standard of the clubs of previous years.

Society of Inquiry

THE purpose of the Society of Inquiry, to inspire and uphold Christian ideals, and to promote Christian living both at Andover and elsewhere, is still the same as it has been in the past. The war has made the scope of the society larger because of the realization by more men that religion in its simplest form is necessary, both for the good that can be accomplished through it, and for the personal comfort and happiness that comes from it. The society stands for this expression of religious life.

To-day we feel that, while other things are of stupendous importance, it is imperative to consider how we are living, what we are, what we are here for, what life is to us, what Christ and his example are to us and in us, and, most of all, what He is through us to others. The successful solution of these questions will mean the successful solution of the future and the salvation of others in the ordinary run of events. At all times, and now especially, Christ and His relation to us is the main object to hold before us.

There is not a student in Andover who would not respond if his country called him. Hand in hand with the call for sacrifice goes the call for allegiance to the right in its fight against the wrong. These are the claims of Inquiry, but not of Inquiry alone; these are the claims made by the school, the nation, and the human race, and every fellow in his highest moments realizes them.

In view of the fact that Northfield is primarily a conference place for college delegations and that Andover was invited to send a delegation to Blairstown, where only preparatory school conferences are held, it was thought best last spring to send a representative group to the latter place. Owing to the satisfaction and the good results which have been the outcome of the conference, it has been decided to continue these delegations to Blairstown. The following twelve men composed the group which attended last June: R. M. Woolley, D. F. Carpenter, W. E. Stevenson, G. H. Hewett, G. Bovaird, G. A. Thornton, W. L. Morgan, E. W. Peters, H. T. Day, J. R. Flathers, F. Flathers, and Mr. C. F. Pfatteicher.

Literary

THE members of the Class of 1918 seemed very unwilling to venture along the paths to literary fame during their junior year, and as a result the class was not represented on any organization of this nature in the year 1914-1915.

With the beginning of the following year, however, the class took a new lease on life and determined to deprive the school of its latent literary ability no longer. The Phillipian was the first organization to receive the benefits of its talent, J. A. Smith being elected to the board in the winter term. In the following spring term three more members of the class graced the personnel of the board, these being L. G. Neville, D. S. Smith, and E. C. Scheide. During the same term D. L. Greene and W. B. Knox took part in the annual Philo-School Debate.

In the Upper Middle year the class earned an enviable reputation for itself, being represented in every branch of literary activity. J. A. Smith, L. G. Neville, D. S. Smith, E. C. Scheide, J. M. DeCamp, D. E. Walch, and D. F. Brown were on the Phillipian board, while S. H. Otis was assistant business manager. H. H. Noyes and A. E. Sawyer were Means Prize Speakers, while R. H. Hull and H. K. Schauffler took part in the Philo-School Debate on February 5th. H. M. Goodwin and T. E. Lunt were on the Mirror board, and R. H. Hull and H. R. Buckley on the Calendar board. L. G. Neville and W. C. Roberson represented the class on the POT-POURRI board as assistant managing editor and assistant business manager respectively. A. C. Bogert, D. S. Smith, R. C. Bates, and J. C. Wilson were members of the Dramatic Club.

During the Senior year the class rapidly took the lead in the literary activities of the school, and its members predominated in the various organizations. The Mirror was managed by J. C. Wilson and T. E. Lunt, while H. M. Goodwin, G. V. Smith, and R. C. Bates were on the board. L. G. Neville was managing editor of the POT-POURRI, W. C. Roberson, business manager, and S. P. Moorehead was art editor.

J. A. Smith was managing editor of the Phillipian, S. H. Otis was business manager, and the Senior editors were L. G. Neville, E. C. Scheide, J. M. DeCamp, D. F. Brown, D. E. Walch, E. H. Eckfeldt, A. H. Crosby, R. Lewis, and C. MacMillan. H. K. Schauffler was Speaker of the Congress, a new organization formed during the year. Those who competed for the Means Prize were W. E. Stevenson, B. Ault, H. K. Schauffler, J. H. Paxton, G. V. Smith, and D. L. Greene.

Reviewing the literary activities of the Class of 1918 we find a record of which we can be and are justly proud, and one which we hope will serve as an inspiration to future classes of Phillips Academy.

PHILLIPS Academy is indeed proud of her sons who have gone out to fight the great fight and who are even now seeking to establish throughout the world, by their own efforts, those very ideals upon which life here at Andover is established. The Class of 1918 takes this opportunity of expressing its appreciation and thanks to them, and especially to those who have gone out one by one from our very own Class, and whose presence we still seem to feel with us.

That I go to the woods alone? For you,
I cannot help but think, walk with me here,
Your free-hand brushes mine, your gay lips, too,

Athletics

IN following the athletic career of 1918, one is impressed by her fighting spirit in the face of defeat. Slowly but surely she has been preparing to cast aside the role of the under dog, but has fallen just short of it in her final year, leaving one last step to her successors.

The history of our class begins in the fall of 1914. In the September of that year we came to Andover determined to do our bit in wiping out the disgrace of the previous year. Captain Avery and his team started off the year in fine fashion, defeating Cushing 7 to 0 in the first game. Our high hopes were soon shattered, however, for we lost every other game of the season, finally succumbing to Exeter to the score of 78 to 7.

The winter term was a little brighter for Andover. The swimming team, captained by Fitzgerald, won seven out of eight meets. Basso's wrestling team was victorious in four meets out of five. Our relay team defeated Exeter. This term was marred by but one serious defeat: Exeter beat Captain Ashley's hockey team 5 to 0.

Our spring term was yet more successful. The track team carried off first honors in the Harvard Interscholastics. One record was equalled and another broken in that meet. Rodman tied the old record of 16 seconds in the high hurdles and Captain Prescott established the new record of 23 feet 3 inches in the broad jump. To finish the season so well started we defeated Exeter 54 to 41. Prescott broke another record, this time the 220-yard dash.

Our tennis team, captained by Sydney Thayer, duplicated the track team's record by winning the Harvard Interscholastics and defeating Exeter 4 to 3.

After a season of almost continuous victories, Captain Butterfield's baseball team bowed to Exeter to the score of 10 to 2.

Even though in that year Exeter had held the upper hand in two of the major sports, the fact that we were able to down her in track revived the feeling that Exeter could be beaten, and we looked forward in high hopes to the coming football season.

Our hopes received added impulse from an easy victory over Cushing, but alas! they were soon shattered. The very next week in scrimmage Captain Gleason by an injury to his knee, was put on crutches until the Exeter game. This was only the first of our disasters; week after week our best men were put on the injured list. Thus Exeter was able to defeat us by the score of 37 to 7.

The swimming team and wrestling team had fairly victorious seasons. Searle and Russell were captains.

Exeter again defeated us in hockey and this year she also won the relay race.

The track team also was unfortunate, losing to Exeter by the score of 69½ to 26 2-3. Nineteen Eighteen was represented by Converse, captain-elect, and Buckley.

After a hard season, during which it was successful in five of seven games, the baseball team finally lost to Exeter in the hardest played game of that year, or of many years before. The score was 2 to 1.

We now come to our Middle year. An abundant supply of new material gave us a promising football team, which was far superior to the trio preceding it. We won three victories out of a possible five and had high hopes of beating Exeter. But a muddy field and ill luck defeated us again, 6 to 0. We were represented by Herr, Flynn, and Talmage.

As usual the swimming and wrestling teams took the middle course. While their seasons were not of the very best, they were not to be complained of. For the first time in three years the hockey team won out over Exeter. On it we were represented by Stover and Ingraham. Our relay team lost.

Our outlook for a spring offensive was blasted by a declaration of war on Germany. It was voted that athletics be given up for the remainder of the year and military training was substituted.

In our Senior year we were handicapped in many ways: material for football was not of the best; our coach had enlisted and military work broke up three hours per week of athletic time. Even in the face of these great odds we buckled down to hard work, determined to beat Exeter in spite of them. Frank L. Quinby, an alumnus, volunteered his services as coach and they were gratefully accepted. To him is due all credit for Andover's athletic season. Our football season resulted in an even break, with a final defeat by Exeter of 3 to 0. Each year the score has been reduced. This year the variable approached its limit, and in defiance of all laws of mathematics it will, within a year's time, not only reach that limit but pass it. We had on the team Baker, Bailey, Brown, Fairbairn, MacDonald, Moorehead, Randolph, Robinson, and Manager Neville.

The soccer team had a fairly successful season. We had Captain Coburn, Dodd, Humphrey, Hussey, Phillips, and Manager DeCamp.

The swimming team was very fortunate, losing but one meet. We were represented by Captain Neville, Ferguson, Meagher, Moorehead, Townsend. Our relay team lost. We had on that team Captain Bailey, Chute, Stevenson. The scores of our wrestling team showed no defeat. For the first time we defeated Boston Y. M. C. U. We were represented by Fairbairn and Manager Stevenson. Captain Dodd's hockey team skated its way to victory over Exeter after a fairly successful preliminary season. The score was 3 to 2. Captain Dodd, Gratwick, Davis, Kahn, Chittick, represented 1918.

Here history ceases and prophecy begins. Track prospects do not come up to our standard of former years, while in baseball we are severely handicapped by the absence of Coach Quinby, who has been called to the colors.

Whereas in the past our success has been marred from time to time by defeat, we intend to devote our future efforts to making Andover wholly victorious.

ONE of the few regrets experienced by the old men returning to the hill last fall was the loss of our fine football coach, Fred Daly, and five letter men, all of whom had been expected to return but had enlisted in the service. Among these was Captain-elect Stover. The task of whipping a winning team from a lot of green material was given to Frank Quinby, our baseball coach, and he proved to every one that baseball is not the only art of which he is master. G. D. Braden was elected to the captaincy, and he working with Coach Quinby, instilled in the men the best spirit of fight that has been seen on an Andover-Exeter gridiron for many years.

The first game merely served to test out the men and find the weak places. Cushing Academy, our opponents, by some fine work in the last period managed to get the long end of a 7 to 6 score. The second game was played October 13th, at Cambridge against the Harvard Freshman team. Here again we were forced to accept defeat, this time by a score of 16 to 0. The great possibilities of the men Coach Quinby had under him were not brought out until we defeated Worcester Academy 20 to 7 on the third of November. Previous to this game we had defeated a team representing the Bumpkin Island Naval Reserves 7 to 6, and had played a 7-7 tie game with the Harvard Radio School. Following the defeat of Worcester the team journeyed to New Haven on November 10th, and there met one of the finest freshman teams seen at Yale for several years. The Andover team was completely out-classed, the final score being 41 to 0. The work of Morgan and Avery at tackle and centre were the bright features from the Andover viewpoint.

Not discouraged by their failure to date, but realizing that they would have to fight, the team came up to the Exeter Game on November 17th. The game was played at Exeter with perfect weather, and the exhibition put up by both teams will go down in history as one of the finest ever played between the schools. Captain Don Lourie's field-goal from the 35-yard line in the second period brought victory to the crimson, and it was his playing that saved the Exeter team a beating. Three times Andover fooled her opponents and advanced to within 15 yards of Exeter's goal line only to lose the ball and have the always dependable Lourie punt out of danger. The Andover line had little trouble pushing back that of Exeter, but the latter's back-field was better than ours. The work of Avery at centre, of Morgan at left tackle, of Moorehead at right tackle and of Bailey at full-back were the best for Andover. Captain Braden's playing at end was also good. The final score was Exeter 3, Andover 0.

CAPTAIN DODD

BASEBALL like the other spring activities was carried by the boards last year when war broke out, and the school was not represented by any formal team. Near the very end of the school year, Captain Brennan got a team together and played three very good games, having only a few days off from military drill for practice. The team as it played was very strong as there were five letter men back from the preceding year.

Instead of a varsity the different military companies were organized into a league, and each team managed to play off several games. This season the team has started with an entirely new line-up, all the letter men having left school. Throughout the spring term three days a week have been allowed the team for practice, military training being required on the other days. At the time of writing this article the season is half over and the team has been rather unfortunate, but Andover has high hopes of defeating Exeter on the eighth of June. Much credit is due to Dr. Stearns who, in addition to other duties, has taken up the task of coaching the team, a position which was open due to Coach Quinby's departure for France on Y. M. C. A. work. Norman Dodd, of Orange, N. J., was appointed captain, and in him we see not only a good ball-player, but all the little traits so necessary for a good captain. Manager H. C. Smith has handled the team well throughout a very trying season and deserves, also, a great deal of commendation.

Track

AT the time of writing this, the track season has only got fairly started and any remarks on the Exeter meet must be saved for a later time. We dare predict ahead, however that the team will make a mighty fine showing.

Last fall's Cross Country team was probably the finest that has ever represented a Preparatory School in New England and it is to be regretted that they did not have more of a chance to prove their worth. Unfortunate it is, too, that we were unable to have a run with Exeter as it would undoubtedly have been very interesting if not a very close one. Four men on Captain Hale's team broke the record for the 3-mile course at Andover, Callahan bettering it by 1 minute and 44 seconds in the dual run with Harvard Freshmen when he defeated O'Connell, a former Exeter man with an enviable record, by about 20 yards, winning by a sprint in the last 200 yards. On November 3d, the team ran Worcester Academy and of the seven Andover men, five took the first five places in order, the other two following closely behind the Worcester captain. Callahan, Kingman, Bowles and Captain Hale all bettered the former record for the course in this race, while Chittick was only a few seconds behind it. Coach Blanchard turned out a wonderful team, and we hope it was as much a pleasure and satisfaction to him as it was to the school. Captain Hale showed throughout the season every one of those qualities necessary for a good captain, and it is to him too, that no small share of credit is due for the success of the team.

The following received their c.A.c.'s:
Captain Hale, G. F. Callahan, J. R. Kingman, Jr., R. L. Bowles, C. Y. Chittick.

CAPTAIN DODD

IF we can't teach Exeter how to play football, we are learning fast, and we can teach them one thing — how to stand up on skates. The annual game this year was 3 to 2 in our favor, Exeter being very lucky to get away with her two points. Captain Dodd took his team up to Exeter on February 16th, after having gone through only a fairly successful preliminary season, winning 2, and losing 3 games prior to that with Exeter.

In the first game of the year, the Blue defeated Punchard High School 3 to 2, in a rather slow and uninteresting game. The second game was with the Boston Latin School and this, too, was an Andover victory, Captain Dodd and Adams doing the most to put us ahead 3 to 1. The Stone School game had more the appearance of a free-for-all fight than anything else, Stone winning 3 to 0, but after this our team took a brace and showed nothing but the best brand of hockey from then on. The strong Harvard Freshman team was hard put to beat us 3 to 2, and it took Tufts College an extra ten minutes to get away with that same score in their favor.

The Exeter game was really a fine game, both sides doing better than they ever had previously. Captain Dodd's all-round playing was very good, as was that of Adams, the latter being the best shooter on the ice. Captain Powers of Exeter did well. The result of this game makes the season a success, and much credit and many thanks are due to Coach Quinby and Captain Dodd for their untiring efforts in trying to bring about just what they did — a victory over Exeter.

CAPTAIN NEVILLE

LEFT without a coach at the beginning of the season, on account of the resignation of Alex Sutherland, the prospects for a successful swimming team were not particularly bright this year. Mr. Blanchard, the track coach, kindly offered his services and worked steadily with the squad until a fairly well balanced team was turned out. On January 26th, the Bumpkin Island Naval Reserve team came up with the much touted Leo Handy, interscholastic champion last year at 100 and 220 yard swims as their leader. For the first meet, it was exceptionally hard and close, although the score of 35 to 18 in favor of Andover would not seem to indicate it.

Then there followed on February 2, 9 and 13 successively, uninteresting meets with Rindge Technical High, the Boston English High School, and the Harvard Freshmen, all of which were won by Andover by overwhelming scores.

However, on February 16, the closest and hardest fought meet of the season took place against the Brown Varsity at Providence. Brown secured a victory mainly through the efforts of Prendergast, a former interscholastic champion, who won the 50-yard event and swam anchor on the relay. Prendergast was forced to accept defeat in the 100, however, at the hands of Marshall of Andover, in the feature race of the evening. The score of the meet was 26 to 24. Brookline High pushed Andover to the limit in another close meet, the final score being Andover 28, Brookline 25. March 2nd, Huntington School was defeated 46 to 7, but on March 9th, we again met defeat, this time at the hands of Worcester. The meet was fairly close and if Andover had been able to win the relay race, she would have won the meet. Worcester demonstrated her superiority by the score of 34 to 19. The class of 1918 honored on this team: Captain Neville, Meagher, Townsend, Moorehead and Ferguson. Marshall, Whipple, Anderson, Higgins, Foote and Manager Peters were from the other classes.

Soccer

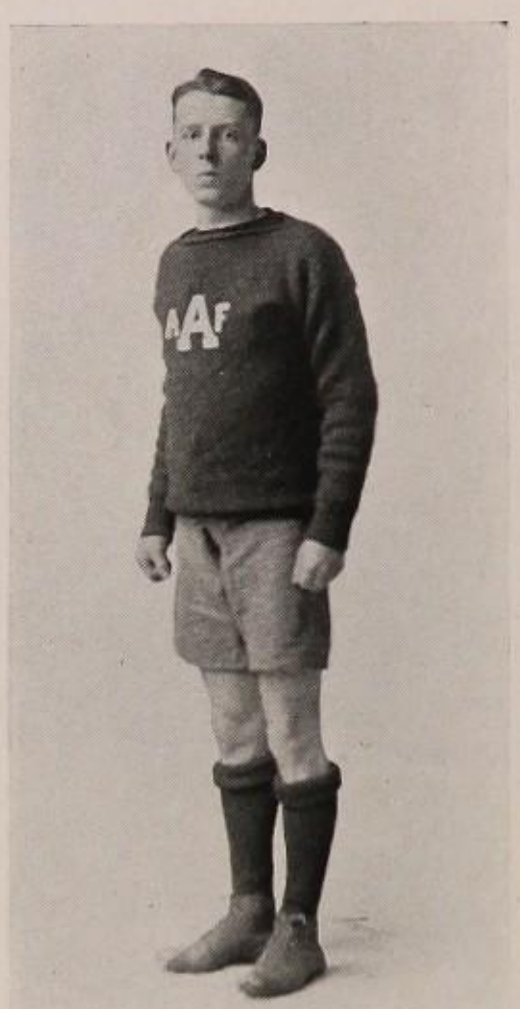
THOUGH materially handicapped by lack of last year's players, the soccer team, guided by Capt. Coburn and Coach Ryley, fought through a very creditable season. Two games were won and two were lost. The season opened with the Dartmouth College game. It was an up-hill fight for Andover, but the clever shooting of the fast Chinamen, Mok and Liang, was all that was needed for a 2 to 1 victory.

After a week of practice the team met the Andover Home Guards, composed of several old semi-professionals. The experience of the older men told, and they won 4 goals to 1. On November 10 the team went to Worcester. Although the field was slippery and new to the Andover men, the game was exceptionally fast. At the end of the first half Worcester had scored one goal to Andover's none. Mok's goal early in the second half was not counted, as the referee called a foul. The game ended with a score of 1 to 0 in favor of Worcester.

The last game of the season was with the Harvard Freshman team. In the first half there was no scoring and the game looked as if it would result in a tie. The Cambridge team weakened, however, and allowed Phillips and Fletcher to score. They made one attempt to come back, but did not succeed. Andover won, 2 to 0.



CAPTAIN COBURN

MANAGER DeCAMP

A great deal of credit and thanks is due to Coach Ryley for his efforts, while Captain Coburn's work of turning out such a team from the materials at hand is highly commendable. We wish Captain Cheney and Manager Hall of next year's team the best of success in the fall.

CAPTAIN SCOTT

OWING to the delay in the election of the senior managers this year, it was impossible to secure the same number of wrestling meets as had been scheduled in former years. However, despite the shortness of the season, it can be said that it was an especially successful one. The team won by decisive margins the only three meets held. Coached by John Carlson, better known as "Cyclone" Burns, claimant of the world's light heavyweight championship, a practically green squad was rounded into a team which displayed exceptional ability and more than upheld Andover's splendid record on the mat.

The season opened with the informal varsity of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as our opponents. The "informals" were no match for us, winning only one fall, the final score being 13 to 5. The second meet, with the Harvard Freshmen, was uninteresting and dull to watch, though Andover won by the overwhelming score of 14 to 6. The Harvard men were unable to secure a fall, and gained all of their points on decisions. The third meet proved to be the most interesting and exciting of the season. Opposed by a team of old and experienced wrestlers from the Young Men's Christian Union of Boston, Andover was forced to fight every minute. The score of 14 to 7 does not begin to show the closeness of each bout, and it was not until John Fairbairn, the only representative from 1918 on the team, had secured a decision over the last man, that a tie was averted. For the first time in six years the Y. M. C. U. team suffered defeat at the hands of Andover. It was a bitter pill to swallow too, this defeat by preparatory school wrestlers, and it was indeed a fitting end of a successful season for Captain Scott and his men.

PORKLET — A SOLILOQUY

To crib or not to crib — that is the question.
Whether it is nobler in the mind to suffer
The stings and sorrows of examinations,
Or to use cribs to bridge the great floods of questions,
And by answering pass them. To pass, and this
And this without the use of ponies, cribs, or trots
That we are prone to, 'tis a consumation
Devoutly to be wished. Mayhap to flunk;
To flunk; perchance to drop — aye there's the rub;
The thought of being dropped makes cowards of us all
And thus the noble resolutions to abstain
From using cribs in truth comes soon to naught.

BROWN (in latin class): "Prof. Forbes, I didn't get my lesson to-day as I have been lying down all morning."

PROF. FORBES: "Well, you've been lying down on this Latin for a month."

WILSON (in chemistry): "Isn't the radio clock very hearly perpetual motion?"

MR. GRAHAM: "Yes."

WILSON: "Why don't we hear more of it?"

MR. GRAHAM: "Because isn't it an alarm clock."

MR. FREEMAN (discussing the tariff): "With the increased tariff the price of cotton goods would naturally go up and hence the people would wear their cotton shirts longer - - er - - ah - - - that is a longer time."

FIRST SERGEANT HARTSCHORNE (drilling platoon): "Every man hold out his right foot." (Private Bickford holds up left foot making two leggs come together).
